FREEZING IN SIBERIA!

Comments

Yakutsk – the coldest town on earth. From November to March, it's only light for three or four hours a day, and the temperature hardly ever rises above freezing. The average daytime temperature is -30°C and at night it sometimes falls as low as -60°C . Now that's cold!

Life in the extreme cold is difficult. At -20°C , the air freezes inside your nose. At -40°C , you can't stay outdoors for more than ten minutes or your skin freezes. At -45°C , the metal on your glasses sticks to your face! It often takes me half an hour to get ready to leave the house and another half an hour to take off all my warm clothes when I get home. I don't go out very much! People only walk short distances from one warm place to another. All activities happen indoors – from shopping to sports. A popular local sport is kykly – a kind of jumping competition. It uses a lot of energy and it keeps you warm and strong. I try to do it three or four times a week. You need to keep fit when you live in sub-zero conditions!

In summer, Yakutsk is a different city. In June and July, it's the season of 'white nights', when the sky never gets dark, not even at midnight. The snow melts and the temperature rises to 30°C and more, but most people are happy to have a heat wave after ten months of winter. Camping and barbecues are the favourite summer activities, with parties all night long. I can't wait for summer!

FACT Yakutsk holds the record for the lowest ever recorded temperature: -64°C

7 Read the blog again. Answer the questions.

- What are the average temperatures in Yakutsk in winter?
- What effect does the extreme cold have on people's bodies?
- Why does it take a lot of time to get ready to go out in winter?
- Why is doing kykly good for you?
- How many hours of sunlight a day do they get in Yakutsk in summer?
- What do people do in summer in Yakutsk?

Words from the text

8 Match the words and phrases from the blog with the definitions (1–6).

1.1 The Long Winter

Find out about someone living in a cold country.

Grammar 1

Present simple

"At -20 °C, the air freezes inside your nose."

We use the present simple to talk about what normally happens, routines and facts.

- At -45 °C, the metal on your glasses sticks to your face!
- She goes skiing a lot in winter.
- I don't go out very much – it's too cold!
- She doesn't like summer in the city – it's too hot!
- Does it snow in spring? Yes, it does. / No, it doesn't.
- Do you like the heat? Yes, I do. / No, I don't.

Grammar reference • page 119

1 Look at the example sentences in the table. Complete the rules about the present simple.

- Add the ending ... (or -es) to the verb for he, ... and it.
- Use ... and ... to form negative sentences.
- Use ... and ... to form questions.
- Use ... and don't to form short answers with I, you, we and they, and ... and doesn't with he, she and it.

2 Complete the conversation with the correct form of the present simple. Use the verbs in brackets.

1 Do; you

- A: What's the hottest place on earth? ¹... you ... (know)?
 B: Yes, I ²... It's Death Valley, California. The temperature ³... (go) up to 47 °C in summer.
 A: Wow, that's hot!
 B: It ⁴... (not stay) that high at night. It ⁵... (drop) by about 15 °C, but it's still very hot at 31 °C!
 A: ⁶... anyone ... (live) there?
 B: Yes, about five hundred people ⁷... (live) there all year round.
 A: What ⁸... they ... (do) there? Is there any work?
 B: Well, they ⁹... (not have) a lot of work, but there's a hotel and a tourist centre. Most people ¹⁰... (work) there. And they ¹¹... (have) a marathon every year.
 A: A marathon? In that heat?
 B: No, they ¹²... (not run) in summer! It's in the winter.

STORM CHASERS

Tornadoes bring heavy rain and terrible winds – the strongest tornadoes travel at 250 miles per hour and are 50 miles wide. They are very destructive. Most people avoid them, but storm chasers do the opposite. They follow the tornadoes and try to get as close as possible. Today's interview is with Todd Robson, a storm chaser in Tornado Alley.

Todd, what is Tornado Alley?

It's a large area in the middle of the United States. It goes from Iowa in the north to Louisiana in the south. Most of the world's tornadoes happen in Tornado Alley. Every year there are a thousand or more tornadoes here. It's the best place to see one of the most amazing natural events on our planet!

But isn't it dangerous?

Well, yes, it is. The 'bear's cage' is particularly dangerous. The 'bear' is a wall of cloud and the 'cage' is the very heavy rain that surrounds it on all sides. To see the inside of the tornado, you need to pass through the bear's cage.

And do you do that?

Yes! I guess we do it because it's exciting, but storm chasing isn't just a hobby, it's my job too. People pay to go on storm-chasing trips. And it's not just tourists. We work with film crews, too, and help collect information for scientists and university researchers who are studying tornadoes. At the moment, we're working with a crew from a TV channel. They're making a documentary about tornadoes – and storm chasers!

FACT Every year, around 70 people die and 1,500 get hurt in tornadoes in the USA.

Your Turn

1 Work with a partner. Look at the photo and answer the questions.

- What kind of extreme weather can you see in the photo?
- What do you think the people in the truck are doing?

2 1.12 Read and listen to the interview in a magazine. Choose the best title.

- A day in Tornado Alley
- Introducing a storm chaser
- A scary experience

3 Read the interview again. Complete the summary.

Todd Robson is a ¹... . He follows tornadoes in ²... . There are more than ³... tornadoes in Tornado Alley each year. They bring strong winds and ⁴... and can travel at ⁵... .
