Living things

The world is full of living things. Humans, plants and animals are all living things. Some things, like sticks, were once alive. Some things, like rocks, are non-living.

In this topic we will learn:

- that animals are living things
- that plants are living things
- the differences between living and non-living things
- how animals change as they grow
- how plants change as they grow.

I am a living thing and so are you.
There are many non-living things around us. Can you think of some?
